Santa Ana Will Soon Have

ASSOCIATION DOES WONDERFUL WORK

Speakers Point Out City's Need—Program of Meeting for Six Weeks

The opening banquet of the Y.M.C.A. of Santa Ana held at the First Congregational church last evening was attended by 175 young men, and was a great success. A splendid supper was served by Taylor Bros., assisted by a committee of which Loren Meade was chairman, and by a committee of mothers consisting of Mrs. Meade and Mrs. Raitt. A group of young men from the high school acted as waiters. The meeting was marked by the generally confident tone that Santa Ana must and will soon have a Y.M.C.A. building.

R. J. Hamilton, the county secretary of the Y.M.C.A., acted as toastmaster. The first speaker of the evening was the president of the Y.M.C.A. of Santa Ana, Charles Robinson, who gave a general outline of the plans for the work in Santa Ana. He introduced the other officers and committee chairman. They were as follows: Samuel Vogt, vice-president; Leslie Pearson, secretary; J. G. Morrow, financial secretary; Harry L. Hanson, treasurer; A. R. Marshall, religious work committee; Loren Meade, membership; J. R. Baker, boys' work committee; Martin Warren, athletic committee; Charles Parslow, social; R. R. Smith, employment; Harry W. Lewis, advisory committee.

The second speaker was J. P. Baumgartner, who spoke on the importance of a city conserving its most important products, its boys and young men. It was expressed as the sentiment of the audience that this speech ought to be printed and he was asked to publish it. The speaker urged the importance of a Y.M.C.A. building to properly conserve the young manhood of Santa Ana.

The next speaker was H. W. Lewis, who spoke on the County Y.M.C.A. work and its relation to the work in Santa Ana. He was followed by Dr. C. D. Ball, who referred to the large number of splendid churches in Santa Ana and to the good work they were doing in their church buildings, but deprecated the lack of a suitable place to take care of the social and athletic life of the young men and boys during the week. He advocated a large Y.M.C.A. building as the next important step for the church people of Santa Ana unitedly to undertake. The large audience seemed to agree with him in this.

The next speaker was H. J. Forgy, who spoke what a Y.M.C.A. building would mean to the youth of Santa Ana. Prof. J. A. Cranston followed, emphasizing much the same ideas, and calling attention to the large amount of money spent annually for the social life of the members of the lodges and social organizations of the men and women of the city and using this as an argument for the need of a suitable place for the boys and young men.

W. A. Zimmerman followed with a splendid paper, interspersed with stories and illustrations, and closing with a personal testimony as to what the Y.M.C.A. meant to him when starting out in city life.

Judge West was the next speaker, who encouraged everyone to believe that it was possible to raise sufficient money in a short space of time to put up a suitable Y.M.C.A. building. Rev. W. L. C. Samson pointed out how the Y.M.C.A. can help the religious life of men and boys and aid the church in its work. The last speaker was Rev. J. A. Stevenson, who spoke on the secret of Y.M.C.A. success, showing that it is the firm insistence on the religious side of the work.

Announcements were made of the meetings of the Y.M.C.A. for the next six weeks and forty signified their intention of attending these meetings.

An opportunity was given for others to join the association and the one hundred mark was quickly passed. The executive committee later set as the aim of the association the having of 200 members by the first of April. The county secretary gave as a motto for the young men the motto used by the early advocates of missionary work: "We can do it, and we will." It is the spirit of the

Burns Defends His Reputation In Wordy Tilt

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—Detective W. J. Burns today took the witness stand in the Lorimer investigation. Burns testified that the Lorimer committee employed him from June to October to investigate the testimony of Witness Charles McGowan. He dropped the case in October because the committee discontinued his fees. He had several wordy battles with Judge Haney, Lorimer's counsel, which the court interrupted.

Burns said: "I found McGowan lived with his father in Toronto. I asked the father to bring his son to confer with me. He wanted to know why I said I would prove his son had perjured himself before the Lorimer committee. He called me a liar; I called him a damned liar."

Here Haney interrupted, saying something about Burns mending his ways. Burns replied:

"My reputation is as good as yours. I think it will be found better. Any time you hand me anything like that I'll hand it back."

TAFT LOOKS FOR REPUBLICAN VICTORY

Makes Vigorous Defense of His Administration and His Party

VEXED AT CRITICISMS OF ANTI-TRUST POLICY

Says Republican Party Not Under Obligation to Destroy Business

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Jan. 31.—Weakened by the gripe, President Taft conferred with Republican editors at 10 o'clock this morning, and at 11:30 he addressed the constitutional convention in session here. Dr. Rhoads maintains that the President's condition is not alarming.

"When we get stripped for action and get into the arena with only two antagonists I think we will be able to show reasons for our continuance in power," was the keynote of President Taft's speech before the Ohio Republican editors.

Referring to himself as President, he said: "Sometimes I am lonely in Washington because it is hard to bring out those who are really interested and who have the right to know the real reasons why certain things are done or not done. There are those who are able to make so clear the correctness of what they are upholding that there is no reason to fear the spread of general information on the subject. I am not of those. I have lacked the knowledge of what sad history has told me—that you cannot hammer a thing into the people too often; that reiteration is what counts in spreading doctrines."

Taft's Vigorous Speech
COLUMBUS, Ohio, Jan. 31.—President Taft last night took off his gloves and went for the detractors of the Republican party as represented by his administration. It was the most vigorous speech he has made since he became President. He was addressing the Columbus Glee Club, and he was pursuing further his campaign plan outlined first in Cleveland Monday night.

Also the President let it be known beyond all question of doubt that he believes the Republican party will win the fight next November. He said he had been misunderstood once about that, but he would not be again. Of attacks on him in connection with the Sherman anti-trust act he said:

"These people make me impatient. Both party platforms in 1908 called for a rigid enforcement of the anti-trust law. After I was elected I got some lawyers about me who knew that the enforcement of the law means enforcement in the courts and not in the newspapers. Now we are told we have forfeited all right to the support of business because we enforced the laws. The Republican party is not under any obligation to destroy business. We will protect all business that squares itself with the law. But I am not here to apologize for the enforcement of the law and not here to shake my gory hands at you and say what more I am going to do."

Fifty Killed By Dynamiting of Train—Mukden Under Martial Law

PEKIN, Jan. 31.—The Dowager Empress has notified the cabinet that the imperial family has practically agreed upon the terms of abdication, and that a decree is being prepared. It contains several conditions to which the rebels must accede.

TROOP TRAIN DYNAMITED—
MARTIAL LAW AT MUKDEN
Tien Tsin, Jan. 31.—Dynamite exploded under a troop train in Sloan, Honan province, killing fifty-two imperial soldiers and maiming one hundred. Many are wounded fatally. Martial law has been declared at Mukden.

Bandits are slaying and looting.

YOUNGER MANCHU PRINCES
DELAY ABDICATION PLANS
PEKIN, Jan. 31.—Squabbles over the division of the $2,000,000 annual allowance the Republicans have offered to pay the royal clan for abdication, may prevent an early consummation of abdication plans. The younger Manchus declare that the sum is insufficient, but it is believed they will finally accede to the decision to abdicate.

Proposed Terms of Abdication
PEKIN, Jan. 31.—The terms believed to be laid out for the abdication are as follows:

That the imperial family and princes are to retain their empty titles, reside in Peking or elsewhere at their pleasure and receive annual pensions aggregating 3,000,000 taels ($2,000,000), and that the transfer of power will be effected with as little loss of dignity to the throne as possible.

Premier Yuan Shi Kai, in a statement to the newspapers, avers his readiness to accept almost any solution that will insure peace. He has no fear for the country's future, he says, if the settlement is the fruit of reason, truth and justice.

STRIKE LEADERS REFUSED BAIL

Ettor and Lieutenant Held as Accessories to Murder of Anna Lapizzi

LAWRENCE, Mass., Jan. 31.—Joseph Ettor, leader of the millhands' strike, and Arturo Giovannitti, his chief lieutenant, arrested yesterday on the charge of being accessories to the murder of Anna Lapizzi who was shot during a battle of the strikers and militia, were arraigned today. The case was continued until February 9, the judge refusing to accept bail.

Ettor claims that a misguided striker fired a bullet at the ground, which struck a stone and deflected, killing the woman. He claims that his arrest is the result of a trumped-up charge.

Ettor rejected Gov. Foss's suggestion that the strikers return to work for thirty days, receiving weekly wages for fifty-six hours' work per week for fifty-four hours' work pending arbitration.

Mill officials expressed the belief yesterday that with the effective prohibition of picketing by the militia a great many more operatives would return to work soon. All the mills were running yesterday, although on short-time.

DR. MARY WALKER DISCOVERS PLAN TO CHEAT DEATH

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—Dr. Mary Walker, the only woman who has the permission of Congress to wear trousers, has discovered a new way of preventing death, and suggested to Speaker Clark and others that the trustees of the Nobel prize for the advancement of science be officially notified of her startling discovery.

Dr. Walker's method consists of revivifying the heart by artificial pumping, applied through manipulation of the chest. She claims that the rhythmic motion of a heart may be restored and the wheels of life started anew in this manner.

MAN WHO SWINDLED ANAHEIM JEWELER TURNS OUT TO BE NOTED FORGER WANTED EAST

Hartfield Has One Slim Chance of Getting Back The $932 Diamond Carried Away By The Sharper in November

Bernard Hartfield, jeweler of Anaheim, has one slim chance of getting back the diamond turned over by him to Judson White, alias Judson Smith, alias Judson Wood, alias a dozen other names. Hartfield was one of the many victims of the swindler, who is now in the Pawnee county jail in Kansas. It is probable that the man of many names will be prosecuted there, and never brought to the coast. It develops that the man is a noted swindler, that he has worked the same game in a dozen different places.

Hartfield's chance of getting the $932 diamond taken away by the swindler lies in the fact that when the swindler was arrested in Kansas a pawn ticket from a Denver broker for a diamond was found tucked away in his shoe. It is probable that when the man went East after swindling the Anaheim jeweler, he pawned Hartfield's diamond in Denver.

At Anaheim the man represented himself to be a wealthy lumberman, interested in establishing a chain of yards. He negotiated with Hartfield for a $932 diamond, and he gave a New York draft for $1166.66 in exchange. Hartfield gave him the diamond and a check for $234.66. The man cashed the check. This occurred November 25.

Concerning the man's operations in Kansas the Dodge City Globe says:

He went to Larned where he managed to work the game a little farther than he did here. In fact he worked it so far that he is now in the Pawnee county jail, where he is being held for a representative of the Burns detective agency.

The man was Judson Wood in Larned. Here he was J. Z. Wood. He registered under that name at the Harvey House on December 13.

Soon after he reached town, he called at the Bedell & Son jewelry store. He explained to David Bedell and Frank Bedell that he was the president of a large lumber concern in New York City and was looking for a location of a string of lumber yards. He wondered if he could get a good diamond here for a Shrine button. In order to impress the jeweler with his customer's greatness, the man quietly let it be known that he was a man of considerable wealth, and that his account with his New York jeweler amounted to something like $8000 a year. He told of automobiles, summer residences and other things which ought to have brought a western man to his knees, but Mr. Bedell was a grafter.

Nothing would suit the persistent Mr. Wood but a diamond weighing a carat or a carat and a half, for which the usual price is something like $800 or $1000.

The Dodge diamond merchant decided at once that he would not make any bid for Mr. Wood's business. He told the visitor he had no diamonds as large as that, could not get any, and thought it would be useless to show the diamonds he did have.

So the New Yorker left. He went to Larned and the Larned Chronicle tells of his operations there as follows:

Judson Wood, as he called himself in Larned, came to town some two weeks ago, and became acquainted with E. R. Smisor. He represented himself to be the president of the Atlantic Coast Lumber Association, and was establishing a string of lumber yards through the west. He was a pleasant, affable man, and incidentally he wished to purchase a diamond, not an expensive diamond, understanding, just a mere trifle of a diamond costing say $500 or $600, something that would do as a makeshift until he could get back to his collection of real diamonds in New York. He was homesick for diamonds. Could Mr. Smisor send and get several of the gems so he could make a choice? Mr. Smisor could and did.

The diamonds came by express to Moffet Bros.' National Bank and arrived last Sunday, and of course could not be delivered to the bank until Monday. Mr. Wood was very anxious to get the diamond Sunday, as he had received an urgent message which would necessitate leaving on the night train. Mr. Moffet was appealed to but he declined to do anything about it until regular banking hours Monday.

Homesick Mr. Wood was deeply disappointed but would return Tuesday, which he did, thoughtfully arriving after banking hours. He was ready to purchase the diamond and Mr. Smisor took him to the bank to see the gems. He chose one and asked Mr. Smisor to make out a bill of sale for which he tendered a check for $666.66.

Mr. Smisor handed the check to Cashier W. W. Charles to pass upon. The check was drawn on the Colonial Bank of New York City in favor of Judson Wood, and signed by E. E. Hess. Mr. Charles asked if he had anyone to identify him. Why, certainly, here was Mr. Smisor. But that wouldn't do. Mr. Charles asked him to wire the Colonial at New York to place the amount with the Moffet correspondent, the Seaboard National, which in turn would wire the Larned bank and the check would be cashed.

This Mr. Wood refused to do. He put the check in his pocket, and said he would send for the money himself. He was indignant that his credit was doubted. He said that his checks were cashed without question in the East, and his statement seems to be verified by the telegrams received after his arrest. They had been cashed not only in the East but in the South as well, and the telegrams are still coming.

By this time Mr. Charles' and Mr. Moffet's suspicions were aroused. Mr. Smisor remembered an account of the operations of a smooth confidence man told about in his latest jeweler's journal, and upon looking up the article again, the description fitted Wood exactly. The checks he had passed before were made out to Judson White and signed by E. E. Hess; everything tallied. A warrant was gotten out at once and Wood was arrested at the Larkin Hotel just as he was getting ready to take the train.

The Jewelers' Circular Publishing Co., of New York was wired of the arrest and the following telegram was received by Sheriff Winchester:

"Adams wanted Canton, Miss. W. R. Dekle. Also wanted at Greenville, W. Va., and Fairfield, Iowa."

The detective bureau of the American Bankers' Association of New York wired to hold Wood by all means as he was a noted forger and was badly wanted. The Pinkerton Detective Agency at Kansas City wired to have him turned over to them, also the Burns agency.

When Wood was searched, on his person were found two checks, one for $666.66 and one for $766.66, both signed by E. E. Hess; six heavy gold Masonic rings, four Masonic badges, several gold stick pins; a Denver pawn ticket for a diamond valued at $266 was found in his shoe; a D. & R. G. pass and about $30 in money. In his grip were a dozen bottles of drugs, several bottles of chloroform, laudanum, whiskey, liquid ink eraser, a number of surgical instruments, a bunch of keys, a mask, false whiskers, a half dozen hats, etc.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 31.—Attorney Earl Rogers, defending Clarence Darrow, has declared that he will base his entire fight on securing a verdict of not guilty, and not a blanket verdict that the facts were not proved.

FRANKLIN REFUSES TO DENY OR AFFIRM CONFESSION

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 31.—"I absolutely deny that I ever was in an automobile with Assistant District Attorney Ford or was ever employed by the district attorney's office. All published reports regarding this are absolutely untrue."

This was Bert H. Franklin's statement today. He, however, refused to affirm or deny his reported confession, saying a statement might affect his case. It was alleged that his confession was made in an automobile with Assistant District Attorney Ford on January 14.

NO FURTHER INDICTMENTS OF LABORITES FOR MURDER
LOS ANGELES, Jan. 31.—The county grand jury will resume its sessions next Friday. It is announced that the time will be occupied with routine matters, with no further attention to the McNamara aftermath at present, although officials are still gathering up loose ends of the case, and may return to the matter within a short time.

The district attorney's office unqualifiedly denies that there will be any further indictment of laborites on a murder charge in connection with the Los Angeles Times dynamiting.

FRANKLIN TO BE MAIN WITNESS AGAINST DARROW

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 31.—Bert H. Franklin will be the principal witness in the trial of Clarence Darrow, who is under double indictment for alleged bribery in the McNamara case, according to reports arising from recent developments. It is rumored that Franklin has already made a confession to the District Attorney's assistant. It is believed that Franklin will secure immunity, and that he will be taken east to assist in the arrest of some man in Chicago who is said to be implicated in the handling of the money for the bribing of jurors. Franklin's bail of $10,000, furnished by his former employers, will be withdrawn and Franklin will be released on his own recognizance.

LeCompte Davis, Franklin's counsel, declares that he knows nothing about Franklin's bond being canceled, which was published generally in the morning press. He emphatically denies that he knows anything about Franklin's realigned confession.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 31.—Regarding the alleged Franklin confession Earl Rogers, Darrow's attorney, said: "I would not consider anything Franklin might say in the nature of a confession. I have always believed he would be a state witness."

During the conversation Rogers plainly indicated that the defense will claim that Franklin became connected with the McNamara defense after having a definite understanding with the other side. It is possible Rogers will attempt to prove Franklin sought employment with the McNamara defense for a specific purpose.

MORE PRIZES TO BE ADDED TO REGISTER'S VOTING CONTEST

First List of Names of Candidates Will Appear Friday Night With List of Additional Prizes.

Friday night the first list of names of contestants in the Register's automobile contest will be published for the first time. Be sure to have your name on the list.

The contest editor is waiting for you to send in your name today, or at least tomorrow. If you enter today you have just twenty-four hours advantage over the candidate who puts off until tomorrow.

The best time to enter the contest is before the published list appears, but there is no need to wait until then. Send in your nomination, get a receipt book, and start to work, so that you will already have something to your credit when the majority are just beginning.

In many ways it is good for you to enter the contest. The most obvious reason is that you can win a prize worth far more than the average man earns in a year.

Don't Be Reticent
Sometimes a young and inexperienced candidate will say, "I don't like to ask people to subscribe in my favor." This is all wrong from every point of view. You must remember you are not asking something for nothing by writing down his name in your favor. He would pay the money and get the Register anyway. No one who takes this paper fails to get full value received.

It is easy to get subscribers to the Register because those who are taking it already wouldn't be without it, and those who have not yet subscribed are probably thinking of doing so because they have heard from their friends that it is the best paper. Instead of the people whom you ask for subscriptions being prejudiced against you, it is quite the other way. If you are cheerful, energetic and persevering, these qualities will impress whoever you come in contact with.

How to Plan a Campaign
Your name having been entered into the contest, you want to start out with the firm determination to be just a few votes ahead of your closest competitor when the contest closes. To accomplish this end it is absolutely necessary for you to organize your friends and get them to boost for you, just the same as a politician does when he is seeking office.

Sit right down NOW and make out a list of boosters, and if it is necessary take half the day or all the day, for that matter, to think up this list. When you have completed it you will have written down ten or fifteen names of friends who will work and boost for you. Then inform the contest editor that you have fifteen friends whom you would like to send receipt books to, and he will mail them to you promptly.

No contestant will be allowed to poll over 75,000 votes to be published in the paper until after WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 14th, 1912. This does not by any means imply that contestants cannot secure as many subscriptions as they please between now and Feb. 14th, 1912.

The vote coupon printed below will count five votes when neatly cut out, name filled in and brought or mailed to the Contest Department, care of the Daily Register.

The first thing to do is to enter your name as a candidate by filling in the nomination coupon which is printed below, and mail or bring it to the Contest Department, and it will count as 5,000 votes, if sent in before Saturday, Feb. 3rd. After this date it will be good for 2500 votes only.

The vote coupon good for five votes will appear in the Daily Register from now until the close of the contest, March 16th, 1912.

Enlist the aid of your friends and neighbors in securing subscriptions and coupons for you.

Keep "Central" busy; use your telephone.

Let everyone know that you are a candidate before they promise their help to someone else.

Use your pen and ink; no friend is too far to reach.

The contestant receiving the greatest number of votes during the contest will win the 1912, five passenger Automobile.

A ballot box for depositing the votes for candidates is in the office of the Register.

Vote early and often in this merry contest.

Then let your friends know that you are in the contest, and request them to save their votes for you.

Candidates may nominate themselves or they may be nominated by their friends.

No employee or relative of an employee of the Daily Register can enter this contest.

All vote ballots issued on subscriptions are good until the end of the contest.

Votes are not transferable.

Votes will be allowed on subscriptions secured anywhere in the United States.

In case of a typographical error this publication shall not be held responsible, except to make the necessary correction on the discovery of the same.

The contest opened Thursday morning, January 25th, 1912, and closes Saturday night, March 16th, at 9 p. m.

Call on as many of your boosters as you can personally, and write to others who are out of your reach.

Remember, NO FRIEND IS TOO FAR TO REACH. SUBSCRIPTIONS CAN BE TAKEN ANYWHERE IN THE UNITED STATES.

If you do not receive returns from your boosters as soon as you expect, drop them a line or call on them. Keep your campaign going by keeping in close touch with these friends, and they will realize that you are progressive and out to win.

Handle your own receipt book with a RUSH, be the leader of the organization. It will inspire confidence in your friends and they will work doubly hard for you. They can't help it. They want to be recognized as one who helped you when the last final ballot is cast.

How Can You Reciprocate?

At two or three different intervals during the contest call in all your boosters and invite them to a little evening at home. They will appreciate these reciprocations, and, at the same time, unite in laying out a stronger campaign for you. They can explain their successes and perhaps little difficulties to one another in getting subscriptions for you, and devise ways and means to upbuild and improve your campaign. Remember, that there is always improvement in your work, no matter how well you may be doing.

Who Will Win?

As to who will be the owner of this handsome E-M-F 30 touring car on March 16th rests entirely with the candidate herself. Will there be one among the large list of candidates whose names will appear Friday who will take the advice that the contest editor has just written?

If so, that one will be the hardest competitor you ever had to deal with. She will have votes coming into the contest department as fast as bullets from a Mauser rifle.

HAVE YOU ENTERED THE CONTEST? No? Then just take a pair of shears, cut out the nomination blank and send it in to the contest department.

Go at it just as outlined above. You'll be mighty hard to catch.

ESTABLISH REWARD SYSTEM OF SERVICE

San Bernardino Index: Beginning February 1, the merit system for employees will be established on the local lines of the Pacific Electric system.

Official bulletins were given out to the employees yesterday describing the system under which they will work in the future, which provides them a way to win greater confidence with the officials and to establish meritorious records among themselves, an incentive to efficient service in all departments.

The system has, of course, two sides, and demerit marks can also be earned. Seventy-five of these are sufficient to throw a man in line to seek other employment, if he cannot persuade the company that it still needs his services.

Acts of unusual service or heroism draw from five to ten marks, according to the degree of service rendered, and demerit marks can be cancelled by acquiring enough merit marks to cover them. The number of marks acquired in either direction will figure in the rating of the employee at the end of the month.

A Model Dairy Barn
Concrete floors and mangers with iron stalls and fittings will make the interior of the new dairy barn at the Columbia, Mo., Agricultural college, one that can be easily cleaned and kept clean. Sunlight, the greatest of all purifiers and disinfectants, will be supplied in abundance through numerous large, well-placed windows. A complete system of ventilation will provide an unlimited amount of pure air is the best insurance on uniform temperature. The combination of cleanliness, sunlight and fresh air is the best insurance on the health of the university dairy herd that can be provided. It adds to the comfort of the herd and insures large returns for food eaten.

When tender remove carefully, place in a pretty dish, pour the juice over the apples and crown with whipped cream or a meringue made from the white of two eggs.

Then add the whites, which have been beaten thoroughly, one cup of flour with one teaspoonful of baking powder, and lastly add one tablespoonful cold water. Fertilizer for the Orchard
Fruit growers and fertilizers useful in producing profitable fruit crops: Barnyard manure is good; so are commercial fertilizers when properly used. Fertilizers are seldom applied when orchards are first set, as this is not likely to be needed. Most soils, unless badly run down, produce good growth during the early life of the tree. Fertilizer, if needed, should be applied after the trees begin to bear.

GUZMAN AGAIN CLAIMS ALIBI

He is on Trial in Federal Court on a Charge of Smuggling Chinese

Gregoria Guzman, well known among the Mexicans of the county, former partner of Rosario Sainz in the smuggling business, is on trial in Los Angeles on a charge of smuggling Chinese into this country from Mexico.

Guzman was in the tent on the mesa near Sunset Beach when Sainz killed Jose Machado, for which killing Sainz is now under sentence to be hanged, his case being on appeal in the Supreme court. Guzman knew the hills and mountains of Southern California uncommonly well, and he is alleged to have carried on his smuggling operations with Sainz and others without interruption until immigration inspectors intercepted Guzman and a Mexican named Garcia near Oceanside. Garcia and the Chinese were captured.

Guzman emptied his revolver at Chadney, ran and escaped.

Several weeks later he was captured in the Santa Ana canyon by two Santa Ana officers, T. G. Cervantes and L. M. Edwards, as he was making his way up the canyon with a load of beer that he probably had planned to peddle at a Mexican dance.

He was tried at San Diego for attempting to kill Chadney, and though he claimed an alibi and had several Mexican witnesses, the jury believed Chadney and convicted Guzman. He was sentenced to one year in San Quentin. After that term was served he was taken to Los Angeles for trial in the federal court on a charge of smuggling, and in that case he again declares an alibi. The jury will probably receive the case today.

BEET GROWERS AT OXNARD TODAY

Oxnard Courier: The Courier is in receipt of the following letter for publication from the secretary of the Southern California Beet Growers' Association, calling attention to the meeting of Wednesday afternoon in this city and stating the names of some of the growers who will come here by auto:

"Corroborating the information in my telegram, we are making extensive arrangements for a meeting in the Oxnard Opera House next Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. It now seems probable that nearly a dozen of the principal growers of this section will come up to the meeting and we are hoping that there will be a large crowd of Oxnard beet growers present. Among those who are coming from here are: President A. C. Bird, Geo. H. Bixby, Nelson Ward, S. E. Talbert, A. S. Swift, J. M. Carson and a number of others. We are planning now on coming up in automobiles so that we can spend the following day looking over the country and getting acquainted with the Oxnard people.

"Yours respectfully,

"JAY E. RANDALL,

"Sec'y Beet Growers' Association.

Orange Girls Will Play for Basket Ball Championship

Orange News: The girls' basket ball teams of Long Beach and Orange High Schools will meet for the championship of Southern California on February 17 or 24.

It is possible that the two or three games will be played, depending upon the number required to settle the championship. In that event one game will be played in each town and the deciding game, if one is required, on a neutral court.

If a series of games are played, the first one will probably be played in Orange on the 17th. Such a series would excite more interest than any ever played in the South. Anaheim, Fullerton and Santa Ana would send delegations to witness the game here, and the local crowd would be a record breaker, as girls' basket ball this year is very popular.

In case a single game is played, it will take place on some neutral court. The Orange girls have taken a week of rest from practice since they won the county championship from Santa Ana and are recovering from a slump in which that game found them. They will play a return game with the Sherman Indian girls at Arlington next Saturday.

THE BUILDING OF MEN

"We're building men in Santa Ana!"
How would that do for a slogan for this city?

That would mean that the city has a higher ideal than mere bigness of wealth. It might be translated as meaning Life is Worth While in Santa Ana.

This kind of a slogan would in the end make the city larger and richer than any campaign to enlist only dollars for the upbuilding of the city.

The requisites of success of a city are the same as those of an individual—the vision power to see things in their right relation, sympathy and capacity for work.

Did you ever read the story of Anton, the Flemish clock-maker? He was a good clock-maker, but clock-making didn't satisfy him. He was restless. He took long walks. One day he came to a place over the hills and far away—a gray, quiet restful place—a monastery. Here he would abide and be at peace.

But he was not at peace.

One day he was asked to carve an inscription on a wall space. It read: "Where there is no vision people perish." As he worked he repeated this many times, and pondered upon it—"Where there is no vision people perish." He asked one of the learned monks what it meant, but the answer was vague and unsatisfying. After a time he returned to his old employer, who gladly received so good a workman. He told of the inscription he had carved and begged to have its meaning explained—"Pray, master, how may I get vision?"

The master clock-maker was a wise and good man. "Son," he said, "look into your own heart for vision. Look about for it in the shop. Search for it in your work, in your play, among your daily companions and fellow townsmen."

And lo! the vision came to the young man—a vision of service. In those days only the rich could have clocks. He made a great clock and placed it in the tower of the marketplace that the poor might mark the time of day—and, better still, that they might learn to mark the time—for they were unaware—and thus have their minds opened to the riches of knowledge.

The clockmaker with a vision became a great man, a leader, and he built good roads to his town, so that the people might come to market with ease and learn to tell the time of day by the clock he had built in the tower.

And thus this little, simple act of giving his town a clock not only enlarged the young clockmaker's own vision and enriched his own life, but it brought vision and knowledge to many people, and enriched and ennobled many lives, and added also to the material prosperity of all.

Young men of vision, right-living and right-thinking young men, are an asset to a community beyond estimate in value. Five hundred boys and men under good influence all the time constitute a standing army of righteousness of which any city justly may feel proud. From an economic standpoint, the young man who lives a clean, industrious, useful life is worth a vast deal to a community. A Y. M. C. A. building is a barracks where a peaceful army of good citizenship is trained and fostered and equipped for worth-while service to society. Every man should do his part in this grand work for the conservation of good citizenship. It is worth our while to assist in putting a large number of youth in the path of sobriety, freedom from temptations to vice and crime, and on the road to manly living. The Y. M. C. A. has no other purpose in being except to cultivate and develop the best in young manhood.

What do you quote your son at? What value do you place upon your neighbor's son? No mint standard of value can begin to measure the worth of either of them to you, to the community, to society in general. Such inestimable assets should have the very best training, the most wholesome influence. Have you considered what the Y. M. C. A. has to offer along this line? It will take that son of yours and of your neighbor and surround him with innocent, uplifting, absorbing influences. He will be having a good time, in the best sense of the phrase, and at the same time will be fortifying his physical body for the battle of life, strengthening his moral fiber and putting his mind in capital condition for bright, energetic, telling effort in the fields of useful endeavor. This isn't a bad thing for a boy to have, is it?

From long and intimate familiarity with the work of the Y. M. C. A., and with the results of that work, we declare to you that it is our firm conviction that it is the best paying investment any community can make.

"THE SPORTING THEORY OF JUSTICE"

This is the rather startling title of an address recently delivered before the City Club of St. Louis, by Judge John D. Lawson, dean of the Missouri University Law School.

Judge Lawson branded justice in the courts of the United States as a gamble in which you lose if you overplay or underplay. He was severe in his criticism of our court procedure, and told his hearers that the present system is old and out of place; and that while it was borrowed from England it has been kept without change, while England has changed its system materially and done so for the betterment of the people.

Judge Lawson declared that decisions based on technicalities seemed silly to him. "It is inexcusable," he declared, "for the court to intimate as an excuse for its action that without the word 'the' the prisoner might not know whether he was violating the laws of the state of Missouri or some other state."

Judge Lawson spoke of his recent trip to England where he sat on the bench of the criminal court of that country as the guest of a judge. "What state court was it that reversed a case because the word 'the' was left out," asked the judge of me. "It was the court of Missouri, my own state," I replied. "The reason the court gave was that the constitution of the state required the word to be in all indictments."

"You must have a great veneration for your constitution," the judge told me. "If we had the same veneration for our constitution we would send to the penitentiary for life the man who failed to put the word 'the' in the indictment."

It would seem that no thoughtful person can fail to be impressed, as the Register is, with the gravity of the conditions described by Judge Lawson.

Undoubtedly, the remedy for the present technical system in the courts that delays justice is to place men on the bench who are willing to spend more time doing justice to those involved in suits, and who will not spend so much time picking flaws in the procedure and papers in the case.

LORD BERESFORD'S "THE BETRAYAL" OUT
Long Expected Book Gravely Criticizes Policy of the British Navy

LONDON, Jan. 31.—Admiral Lord Charles Beresford's long expected book, "The Betrayal," reached the hands of the public yesterday in an abridged and amended form, the first edition having been suppressed at the urgent request of the government. The book, however, contains statements and criticisms that are bound to attract the attention of the civilized world and to cause grave concern among the peoples of the nations who boast a powerful modern navy.

It is the chapter on the dreadnaught type of battleship that makes the extraordinary assertion that the "British admiralty have betrayed their trust" by building these fighting monsters in order to arouse public enthusiasm and distract attention from real conditions in the British navy, and implies that other nations who believe the sham and have adopted the same policy, are simply dupes of a clever campaign of advertisement.

GATHERING DATA ABOUT MINERALS

Mr. W. H. Storm, the recently appointed State Mineralogist, is now collecting data relative to mineral production for 1911, as required by law. The result of this work, published in an annual report, helps greatly in advancing the varied mineral interests of the state. The greater part of the information required is obtained by corresponding with the owners and operators of mineral property. Many in this county probably have received inquiry blanks from the State Mining Bureau regarding the output and progress of work in minerals and oil in the year 1911. Those who have received such, are urged to answer them at once, and any who have only recently engaged in business, or who for any other reason are not on the lists of the State Mining Bureau, will be doing a public service by sending to the State Mining Bureau, Ferry Building, San Francisco, Cal., their name and address, together with a statement of the amount and value of the minerals they may have produced in 1911, or are now developing. The State Mining Bureau should not be confused with either the U. S. Geological Survey, or the Federal Bureau of Mines. Orange county is particularly interested in the statistics concerning oil.

Gentlemen—your laundry work is very satisfactory. Please call again next Monday morning for our family wash.

MRS. POCAHONTAS SMITH.

Our Washington Letter

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—It is hinted in the Treasury Department that some of the gentlemen engaged in the pleasant and genteel work of bank examining at a comfortable government salary haven't been earning their keep. And that is a dreadful thing to say about any person with the hater and bearing of an average national bank examiner.

But Comptroller of the Currency Lawrence O. Murray, who has direction of the examiners, sent them all a most disconcerting letter recently. In it he ordered the innovation of having each examiner, at the close of each week, fill out a blank accounting for how he spent the time each working day, and telling what he is probably going to do the next week.

"This letter will also be an aid to the office in determining why the work of some bank examiners is not kept up to date," is the significant, concluding sentence of a statement given out by Murray with the letter.

The work of the tariff board, even under the last year's appropriation, by no means ceases with the publication of the wool report. A report on the cotton industry, even more exhaustive than the wool publication, will go from the board to the White House and thence to congress about February 1.

The board began the investigation of the difference in cost of producing cotton goods at home and abroad simultaneously with the wool investigation. Of the scores of tariff board experts who swarmed into foreign countries as soon as the body got its appropriation and began work, many collected statistics from both cotton and woolen industries.

Japan and China, England, Germany, France and Belgium—these are some of the countries in which the manufacture of cotton fabrics has been studied exhaustively by the tariff board agents. The report will fill big volumes, against four for the wool report. It is said that the cotton report is the most complete study of the world's costs of production of any commodity ever made. The final work of tabulation is being rushed by a force of fifty expert statisticians.

MAGDALENA BAY SOUGHT BY JAPS

U. S. Will Oppose Plan for Control Under Monroe Doctrine—L. A. Men in Plan

Los Angeles Examiner: Startling information has been received at the State Department in Washington to the effect that a group of Los Angeles men now in San Francisco are negotiating for the transfer of control to Japanese interests of nearly 5,000,000 acres of land in Lower California embracing more than 500 miles of seacoast and including Magdalena Bay, one of the great natural harbors of the Pacific Coast.

According to advices from Washington, the State Department has notified the projectors of this remarkable project that if an agreement of any sort exists between the governments of Mexico, in whose territory the land is located, and the Japanese government, the United States will interpose objections on the ground of a violation of the Monroe Doctrine.

One of the chief features of the enterprise is understood to be the colonization of the Magdalena Bay region, which for some years has been a target practice rendezvous for American warships, with a large number of Japanese, probably twenty thousand.

John E. Blackman, who has been a resident of Los Angeles for about a year, holds an option on the Lower California concession involved. That option expires April 1.

TUNNELS JOINED

Great Blast Shattered Solid Granite Sunk Under Historic River

STORM KING, N. Y., Jan. 31.—Mayor Gaynor of New York touched an electric button yesterday and fired the blast that joined the two tunnels, sunk on opposite sides of the Hudson river for the New York-Catskill aqueduct. Nine feet of granite separated the two 18-foot shafts. The blast tore this rock from its bed 1,173 feet below the bed of the river.

It is estimated it will take about a year to complete the concrete work in the tunnel.

WOMAN'S CLUB MEETING

Mrs. Bradshaw of Orange Gave Pleasure by Water Color Exhibit of Flowers

Those present at the Woman's Club on Tuesday afternoon enjoyed a rare treat in the exhibit of water color sketches shown by the president, Mrs. M. F. Bradshaw, of Orange, as illustrating her paper on "The Flora of California." She has made an especial study of this phase of plant life, and the collection of nearly two hundred sketches is the result of years of effort on her part, and represents all the known specimens, under that head found in California. It is worthy of a place in any studio or exhibit.

The delegates to the recent convention of Women's Clubs of the Southern District of California, reported briefly those interesting and instructive sessions.

An expression of sympathy was extended to the bereaved family of the late Mrs. Anna Cooper Townsend, a valued member of the club who has passed to the Great Beyond since the last meeting.

Tuesday of next week, Feb. 6, will be the birthday anniversary of the club and a one o'clock luncheon will be served at the home of Mrs. Vandermast. Another opportunity will be given at that time to see the sketches of Mrs. Bradshaw.

Cupid at Vassar

An extraordinary sale of tickets for this catchy comedy-drama to be presented at the Opera House to-night by the February graduating class of the Santa Ana High School, is reported by would-be buyers. Many have been turned away from the box office, as the house has been sold out.

An attractive and unique feature of the play "Cupid at Vassar," will be the large number of young ladies from the various classes of the high school outside of the cast, introduced into the play by the director, Ernest Crozier Phillips. They will form the daisy chain. The leading parts in the play will be taken by Miss Letitia Livesey and Robert Paine, and both are said to be excellent in their parts. Praise is also given the remainder of the cast.

ELEY-QUALLS NUPTIALS

Pretty Wedding of Santa Ana Couple at the Church of the Angels

The Church of the Angels near Garvanza, famous for its weddings, was the scene of a pretty nuptial affair yesterday morning, an hour before noon, in which a charming Santa Ana girl, Miss Bessie Qualls, and a successful architect and builder of this city, Frederick H. Eley, were the principals. Accompanied by the father of the bride, R. G. Qualls, and her uncle, C. D. Overshiner, the young couple motored to Garvanza from Santa Ana yesterday morning, making the trip in the bridegroom's automobile. They were met at the church by a company of about fifty relatives and friends from Santa Ana, Los Angeles and the South.

Gowned in a handsome gray tailored suit, the bride presented a fair picture of girlish charm. Unattended, the young couple were united by the impressive rite ceremony of the Episcopal church, the bride's father giving her away. Among those witnessing the solemn ceremony were C. D. Overshiner, Miss Lizzie Overshiner, Miss Minnie Gardner, Miss Maude Williamson and Walter Collins of Santa Ana; C. J. Overshiner of Orange, and Mrs. Clara Blocher of Owensboro, Kentucky, an old family friend of the Qualls and the Overshiners.

Mr. and Mrs. Eley have gone to Huntington Beach, where they will spend a fortnight before returning here. A new home, being built on the recently opened Wakeham tract, will be ready for them about the first of April. Their wedding day will be delightfully recalled when they go to housekeeping as they will be surrounded by beautiful gifts received on that auspicious occasion from this city, Los Angeles, the East and South, silver, linen, china figuring largely among these. A notable gift was a hand painted china tea set from the board of education of Placentia, Mr. Eley being the architect of the grammar school being erected there. The bride, for the past year employed with the C. C. Collins Packing company, was remembered handsomely by the firm. That Mrs. Eley, who came here a little over a year ago with her parents from Hopkinsville, Kentucky, has won a host of friends by her lovely disposition and charming manners was testified by the loving generosity with which she was showered with gifts.

Mr. Eley has established himself in Santa Ana and Orange County as a successful business man and architect. He has had many important commissions and will undoubtedly make his way into a broader clientele. With his bride he will receive good wishes and congratulations from an increasing circle of friends.

Orange News: An Italian fruit buyer is wanted here by three men whom he employed to pick olives. The workers figure that the Italian owes them the sum of $21. He left after paying them nothing more negotiable than promises.

Harry Hubert and two Mexican boys were the pickers employed. They worked several days for the Italian, whose name has not been learned and whom they would be pleased to meet.

An altercation between two Mexicans was settled amicably in court yesterday afternoon when the principals were brought before Justice Fullerton by Deputy William Varcoe. The difference between the two arose when the horse of one was fed hay which belonged to the other. The quarrel took place on the McDonald ranch at Villa Park, and a knife, a rock and several blows were said to have figured in the dispute. After examining the offenders through an interpreter, the court decided that the affair was a general misunderstanding and told them to shake hands.

Glenn Martin to Build Biplane For Uncle Sam

As the result of the aviation meet held at Dominguez for eight days ending Sunday, Glenn L. Martin, the Santa Ana aviator, is now classed as an aviator with a national reputation. He flew right along with the best of them, Beachey, Parmelee, Turpin and Gill.

Not only does Martin now rank high as a birdman, but also his factory won recognition in that the machine built by him attracted the attention of the government representative, Lieut. Ellison, who has entered into an arrangement that means that next July one of the Martin biplanes will probably pass to the possession of Uncle Sam for use along with machines sent out by the Curtis and Wright factories.

Martin's machine met with widespread favor and comment, and fully satisfied the government expert in every particular except that it was not equipped with a self-starter. Martin can put on the self-starter, and his machine will then be ready to meet any test the government may make.

Martin's factory will also be represented in the government tests to be made next fall of hydroplanes. Martin and three other builders of the United States are to receive specifications of the hydroplane that will be needed, and he will build one for the competition. This plane not only must be equipped to alight on and rise from water, but must be able to carry two persons beside the operator, and must have gasoline capacity for four and a half hours' flying.

Goes to Hollywood—Santa Ana is to lose Martin's factory. He has made arrangements to establish his aeroplane making plant at Griffith Aviation Park north of Hollywood. He expects to get out the plans and specifications for his buildings soon.

Martin's exhibitions at Dominguez brought him an equal share of profits with Beachey, Parmelee, Turpin and Gill. He has received somewhere in the vicinity of $2000, with the receipts of the last two days.

still to be distributed. Martin went through the meet without an accident while flying. None of his machines was broken except when a novice careened into his plane as it sat beside the course, and smashed one wing, which was replaced within an hour.

Fly With Martin—Miss Blanche Stuart Scott, the woman flier who created a great sensation at the meet, has signed a contract to fly under Martin's management for the next twelve months. She will use one of Martin's machines. All of her flying at Dominguez was done in a Martin biplane.

As yet arrangements for the San Francisco meet have not been made. It is probable that both Martin and Miss Scott will fly in that meet.

WOMEN SLOW TO REGISTER

Many of Fair Sex in Anaheim May be Under False Impression

ANAHEIM, Jan. 31.—According to local registration officers the women voters of Anaheim are not registering themselves at the rate which was to have been expected, and it is thought that possibly many local women are now mistakenly under the impression that they are now on the Great Register. Shortly after the female suffrage amendment went into effect there were elections on both sides of Anaheim on the liquor question, and urgent appeals were sent out to women to act registered at once. There was no election in this city or district, but it is understood that a good many Anaheim women at that time visited the county clerk's office and registered. This was before the first of the year, and such registration is now, of course, useless.

The local registration deputies say that since the first of the year a surprisingly small number of women have registered, and it is feared that many are falsely under the impression that their registration of last December is good. The Anaheim city election comes in April, and with this the presidential primary and possibly other elections coming during the spring it is important that all voters should be registered at once.

Masons Install

Anaheim Lodge, No. 207, F. & A. M., installed the following officers Monday evening: J. F. Walker, W. M.; Wm. Falkenstein, S. W.; C. H. Eyebroad, J. W.; C. A. Boeke, Treasurer; Jos. After the business session a splendid banquet was served. Visitors were present from a number of neighboring lodges.

Anaheim News Notes

The basketball team of Huntington Beach High School defeated the local High School team here yesterday by a score of 43 to 19. This leaves the Huntington Beach team with an unbroken record of victories in the present league series. Anaheim has been undefeated except by Huntington Beach, having lost two games to that team.

Mrs. Santos G. Bustamante, for many years a resident of Anaheim, died at her home here Jan. 29, aged 54 years. The funeral was held at 9 o'clock this morning from the Catholic church, interment being in the Catholic cemetery.

Dick Nemetz returned yesterday from Needles, where he has been for the past three months assisting N. B. Tedford, the local contractor, in the erection of a $30,000 business block. Mr. Tedford will return the latter part of the week.

C. H. Newcombe, a wealthy resident of the Buena Park section, yesterday completed a deal for the purchase of the five-acre Kraemer place, on West Broadway. The land is set to oranges, and is considered one of the most desirable orchards inside the city limits. Mr. Newcombe contemplates later erecting a handsome home on the property.

W. E. Shafer, a manufacturing jeweler of Newark, N. J., is the guest this week of his old friend, Judge J. S. Howard. Mr. Shafer will spend the rest of the winter in Southern California.

J. W. Walls is back from a vacation spent on the Williams ranch in the eastern foothills.

CO-OPERATIVE EXTENSION AND EXPANSION

No city lives unto itself. It has a definite relation to other cities surrounding it and to the section in which it is located. Santa Ana cannot grow and thrive absolutely regardless of whether other cities and sections of the county grow and prosper. Fullerton, Anaheim and Orange, Huntington Beach, Newport and the Peatlands are in some measure dependent upon Santa Ana for their progress and prosperity. There is an affinity bond joining all of this county so closely that the prosperity or adversity of one affects them all, more or less.

Much is to be gained by friendly co-operation among the municipalities of the county for mutual advancement of their material interests. Santa Ana should assume and maintain the broad-visioned attitude of helping to promote whatever will build up Orange county and all Southern California, as well as what will directly and specifically promote the growth of this city. For Santa Ana catches the reflex benefit of general growth and prosperity in Orange county. With all its cities and towns pulling together, this section can make astonishing strides of progress.

It is on this basis that the Register has made arrangements for more regular and extensive news service from, and promotion and publicity work in, the northern part of the county. And at the same time it is extending its circulation in that section by leaps and bounds, having put on a motor cycle service for the delivery of papers to its subscribers in Fullerton, Anaheim and vicinity on the day of publication, just as it has long done in Orange, Garden Grove, Tustin and the adjacent territory.

OIL AND WATER MUST BE MIXED

Anaheim Water Company Elects Board of Directors Opposed to Separation

ANAHEIM, Jan. 31.—Stockholders of the Anaheim Union Water Company yesterday put themselves emphatically on record against the segregation of the company's recently developed oil property from the water stock proper, through the formation of a holding company. They also elected a board of directors which, it is understood, will support this position. Consequently, it is understood, the question of segregation, which for some months past has been a bone of contention among the stockholders of the company, is settled for at least a year.

The company's oil lands are estimated conservatively to be worth $1,500,000. The Amalgamated Oil Co., which is exploiting the land under lease, now has three producing wells which are flowing close to 3000 barrels daily, the production being held down to this figure only by reason of the fact that the big gusher which was first struck on the tract, and which is capable of fully 12,000 barrels daily, is being controlled to meet the handling

PLANS FOR NEW HOSPITAL

Building of Fullerton Institution Not Equal to Growing Needs

FULLERTON, Jan. 31.—At the next meeting of the board of directors of the Fullerton Hospital, to be held early in February, plans will be presented to them for an entirely new building, to take the place of the present hospital, and to cost approximately $25,000. Ever since the establishment of the hospital some years ago it has had an eminently successful career, but so greatly have the demands on it grown that the present building has been found to be inadequate. Situated as it is, the hospital has a large and populous territory to draw from and is constantly being overcrowded.

The present building, which was erected at a cost of about $10,000, is of wood, and the plans are to remove this entirely and replace it with a concrete, fire-proof structure which shall be modernly equipped in every respect. Tentative plans already have been drawn for the proposed new structure, and it is said that the project has the approval of practically all the stockholders. At the coming meeting it will be determined what further steps are to be taken in the matter.

Fullerton Lodge of Masons had a semi-public installation of officers last night, the wives and families and invited guests of the members witnessing the ceremony. Dr. G. C. Clark was installing officer and inducted the following into office: J. I. Gardner, W. M.; A. E. Griffin, S. W.; N. W. Moore, J. W.; C. R. Allen, S. D.; W. H. Bogardus, J. D.; E. W. Dean, Treasurer; H. J. Wyman, Secretary; R. S. Gregory and M. M. Good, Stewards; C. I. Curtis, Tyler.

Following the work there was a program and social session during which addresses were made by C. C. Chapman and others. A banquet wound up the evening.

Citrus shipments have been somewhat held up of late as a result of the inclement weather, but the local Santa Fe office reports that during the week ended yesterday fifteen cars were sent out from this point.

Mrs. John Straub of the Oil Fields left yesterday over the Santa Fe for a visit with relatives in Valley Falls, Kas.

The meeting of the stockholders yesterday was an adjournment from Saturday. When the meeting was called to order at 10 o'clock there was the largest gathering of stockholders which has been seen at an annual meeting in years. It was found that the proxy committee, which was appointed Saturday, was not ready to report, and the morning session was devoted to an informal discussion, devoted largely to the question of water and oil segregation. It was apparent that a large majority of those present opposed the formation of any holding company, and favored turning the revenues derived from the oil property into the general treasury of the company. After two hours' discussion an informal expression of the stockholders was called for on the question of separating water and oil, and this resulted in a unanimous vote against such separation.

It was expected that the vote for directors would result in a very warm fight between the two factions, but those who were engineering the campaign evidently knew how the vote would go, and when nominations for directors were called for at the afternoon session only seven men were proposed. These were Wm. Crowther, A. S. Bradford, H. H. Hale, G. W. Sherwood, J. J. Dwyer, R. J. McFadden and E. E. Beazley. The first five named were members of the old board, the latter two succeeding R. E. Porter and L. P. Drake. The seven named were on motion elected by a ballot cast by the secretary.

At the afternoon session an amendment was proposed to the laws providing that the directors should not be empowered to sell any of the property of the company without a two-thirds vote of the stockholders. Under the by-laws, however, it was impossible to take any action on this proposition, and it was left on the table.

The proponents of segregation are as earnest as ever, but it seems to be understood that there will be no further agitation of the matter for the present.

SIXTEEN HOBOS IN ONE SHIPMENT

ANAHEIM, Jan. 31.—This city, always a convenient stopping place for the eggnut hobo during the winter months, has been unusually favored by visitors of that class recently, and complaints have resulted from citizens and business men. It was accordingly decided by the authorities Monday to have a thorough cleaning up of the town, and officers under the direction of Marshal Kellenburger rounded up sixteen knights of the road from the neighborhoods of the depots and other favorite resorts. The round-up was presented before Recorder Howard yesterday and all given sentences ranging from twenty to thirty-five days in the county jail. They were shipped to the county barge at Santa Ana in a body, and no recommendation of mercy to the rock-pile went with the shipment.

LOS ANGELES PRODUCE MARKET

Yesterday candied and case-count eggs were off 1/2 cent. The former went to 32 1/2 cents and case counts to 28 1/2 cents per dozen. The market was inclined to be weak at those figures. A further decline would not be looked for under present conditions. There has been an increase in the receipts, which has been gradual, and while arrivals by rail have averaged about 400 cases daily, considerable fresh stock is finding its way in from nearby ranches. Receipts were 432 cases.

The butter market ruled firm. There was a good outlet for both creamery extra and firsts. Inferior grades were inclined to drag. Arrivals were 44,863 pounds.

A bare market on Roquefort cheese forced the price up 7 cents a pound. The quotation yesterday was 52 cents. Other cheese was notably unchanged. The market generally was firm. Northern fresh continued in good demand at 18 1/2 cents per pound. Receipts were 4667 pounds.

Highlands were the best sellers in the potato market, the stock moving out at quoted figures. Oregon early wonders were in fair call at $2.75 a hundredweight. Arrivals were 2307 sacks.

No onions were reported in. The market was firm.

Bean receipts were 500 sacks. The liberal receipts in no wise affected the market. The bulk of the arrivals were large, and small white beans and a few sacks of Lady Washingtons.

The sweet potato market was firm. No receipts were reported.

The vegetable market was firm. There was a good outlet for the limited receipts which were firmly upheld. The first consignment of asparagus is expected in within the next few days.

HOW SHE GOT WOMAN'S COIN

San Diego Paper Gives Detail of the Alleged Swindling Scheme

Concerning the method used by Mrs. Hattie Carr, alias Nelson, in the alleged swindling of Mrs. Eugenia Townsend of San Diego out of $2000, the San Diego Tribune has the report that follows. Mrs. Carr and Harry Nelson, recently of Richmond, who were arrested here by Deputy Sheriff Squires, were taken back to San Diego yesterday afternoon. The San Diego Tribune says:

The complaint was sworn to yesterday afternoon by John F. Hawley, a real estate broker, representing Mrs. Townsend. A deal consummated yesterday in Hawley's office transferring the furniture in the Leslie rooming house at 272 Fourth street, and a lease on the building, from Mrs. Nelson to Mrs. Townsend, title to which Mrs. Nelson it is alleged, did not own, is the basis of the complaint.

According to Hawley, January 26, Mrs. Nelson represented to him that she was the owner of the Leslie apartments which she wished to sell. Hawley found a customer in Mrs. Townsend and her husband, E. D. Townsend. By the terms of the sale Mrs. Townsend was to pay $2000 cash for the furniture in 31 rooms and take a lease on the building at $60 a month. The money was paid yesterday morning. Mrs. Townsend to take possession February 1. Other customers calling on Hawley ventured the opinion that Mrs. Nelson did not own the property she sold. Hawley began an investigation. He went to the apartments and found that Mrs. Nelson had departed. He then learned that Mrs. Nelson had started negotiations to buy the property through L. Kleinman, agent of J. B. Du Paul, former owner. As part payment she gave a purported mortgage for $7000 on property in Portland, Ore., the same being deposited in the Blochman bank. Kleinman informed Hawley he had not yet ascertained the true value of the mortgage, and that Mrs. Nelson had no right of title whatever to the Leslie apartments. Hawley then started on Mrs. Nelson's trail. He found her at the Santa Fe station aboard the train. He accused her of selling property she did not own. She represented that she had the deeds ready to deliver and that she was going only as far as La Jolla with friends leaving on the train. While Hawley was dickering with a policeman the train left, carrying Mrs. Nelson and a young man companion. Hawley then went to the district attorney's office, where a complaint was prepared and from there the wires were worked that caused the complete arrest at Santa Ana. Sheriff Ruddock sent a reply that $1600 in cash was found in the man's pockets.
